Thank You for Coming! December Anniversary Celebration

Our Anniversary Celebration and Silent Auction were a huge hit!

At our 13th Anniversary Celebration on December 2nd, we had over 200 attendees, many of whom participated in our silent auction through eBay leading up to and during the event. Thanks to your help and generosity, we raised nearly $7000!

Your support goes a long way at OMF. We rely on our members and community to run our free youth programs, keep class tuition and equipment rental affordable, provide nonprofit services at half the market rate and hold monthly community events.

Thank you for being a part of the community and making our work possible. Your support and participation, at every level, is the reason we are here.

Colorado Gives Day | We Can't Thank You Enough

Colorado Gives Day

This fall, in preparation for Colorado Gives Day, Denver Open Media offered several local nonprofits to join us in our studios for a unique opportunity to tell the community more about themselves.

In November, nine organizations came to Denver Open Media for a tour and a free taping of an information interview and a short pitch to explain why each organization should be given special attention on Colorado Gives Day. Every participant also received one Basic Membership and one free class with us. In addition to offering this opportunity free of charge, we raffled off two Chromebooks to two lucky participants. The event was fulfilling for us to give back and forge new relationships with fellow community leaders.

Open Media Foundation raised $22,000 on Colorado Gives Day. The support and generosity we received was amazing - from supporters new and old, friends and family.

Our deepest gratitude goes out to our supporters and we commit to continue our work, making Denver a better place for everyone.

2017 is Your Year | $500 Film School

Make 2017 the year you became the filmmaker you've always wanted to be at $500 Film School!

Our \$500 Film School provides unlimited classes for an entire year! This is a great program for anyone just starting out as well as experienced media-makers who want to expand their skill set. Our wide range of classes cover field and studio production, editing, graphics, animation and sound from beginning to advanced levels. The whole thing!

Super Heroes at GALS | After-School Enrichment Program

Open Media Foundation partnered with Pop Culture Classroom to bring a semester-long after-school enrichment program to Girls Athletic Leadership School (GALS).

During the program, the six middle-schoolers created their own comic book superhero stories and then translated those stories to short films. The semester culminated in a live screening and interview show at Denver Open Media.

The program will kick off again for the spring semester of 2017. Open Media Foundation wishes to thank the Office of Children's Affairs at the City and County of Denver for the generous funding to make this program possible.

Staff Openings | Open Media Project Sales Representative

We are looking for a full time Sales Representative for our Open Media Project (OMP) software.

The OMP is an innovative Software-as-a-Service providing searchable video transparency tools to legislatures, city councils and other government bodies.

Through this portal, citizens can access proceedings from their laptop or phone in real time, or search for bills based on specific keywords. Some of our clients include the Colorado State Legislature, Colorado Judicial Branch, City of Littleton and Arapahoe County.

Intern Spotlight | Amy Moller

Amy has been a great part of our team at the Public Access TV Station and we are delighted to have her with us for her second internship at the Radio Station!

She has a lifelong passion for the visual arts and recently earned a Bachelor's degree in Film Studies from the University of Colorado at Denver. Of the endless avenues in the world of film, she hopes to discover which direction to take following her internships and being a part of this community.
