Meet Our New Government Transparency Sales Representative

Join us in welcoming Marpessa Allen, our new government transparency sales associate working to promote the Open Media Project.

The Open Media Project is an innovative software suite, equipping governments of all sizes with an online transparency portal, which allows them to upload, tag and archive video of all proceedings.

Marpessa is a passionate community and family leader from Aurora, CO. She is an alumni of the Family Leadership Training Institute and has worked in the Colorado State Capitol, the Dayton Opportunity Center in Aurora, the Children's Defense Fund- Freedom Schools in Philadelphia, and Amnesty International in Washington D.C.

Video Client - Denver Botanic Gardens

OMF's Video Services Department teamed up with the Denver Botanic Gardens and Johnny 5 of the Flobots to make a music video to increase awareness about the emerald ash borer insect.

"The emerald ash borer (Agrilus planipennis) has been confirmed in Colorado," says the Denver Botanic Gardens. "This invasive Asian beetle has decimated ash trees in the Midwest since its discovery in 2002, costing millions of dollars to homeowners and cities. Early detection is key to controlling the emerald ash borer! Look for signs of infestation and report them to your county extension office."

Creative Cloud 2017 at Denver Open Media

Denver Open Media has recently updated the complete 2017 Adobe Creative Cloud suite on all Editing and Learning Lab computers. There are some great new features, including Team Projects. Adobe Team Projects \(Beta\) is a hosted collaboration service that allows video editing teams to work simultaneously on shared sequences and comps across Adobe Creative Cloud video applications. Editors and motion graphic artists can share a team project without fear of overwriting someone else's efforts. You will need an Adobe Creative Cloud username, and have CC for Enterprise (which DOM has!). Check out this link for more info.

New Info on DOM Channels

You may have noticed something new if you are watching DOM's TV channels (Comcast 56, 57 and 881HD, and CenturyLink Channels SD - 8008, 8009, 8010 and HD 8508, 8509, 8510). Our new multi-content player is the latest HD addition to the DOM Channel line-up. With info on the schedule, upcoming classes, local weather, traffic, social media updates and news reports, you'll see some great new screens between shows while playing local music and other audio content from the live feed of Denver Open Media's FM radio station - DOM 104.7FM.

New Denver Open Media Promos!

Check out the new promos for Denver Open Media, featuring you, the members of Denver Open Media. The promos were shot during the November's Member Meeting.
