Fall Fundraiser

Support Denver Open Media

Colorado has a vibrant music scene and Denver Open Media Radio is proud to be the only Denver FM radio station that is 100% dedicated to local music and content. That means all of the music you hear on our station is from Colorado artists, bands and musicians. All of our live and pre-recorded shows are made by local producers and creatives. The station is largely operated by members, volunteers and interns which truly makes this a community run station. Denver Open Media's mission continues to be about empowering the community through media. As part of our Fall fundraising efforts we are asking all of our DOM supporters to make a $25 donation to help us continue our mission. To get more information and make a donation please visit <https://www.coloradogives.org/donate/OpenMedia> or email dom@openmediafoundation.org

Announcements

Denver Film Fest Presents "The Holly"

The Holly goes deep inside a gentrifying community in Denver, where a shooting case involving activist Terrance Roberts becomes a window into the political machinations of urban development and the city's gang activity. The shooting happened at a peace rally in the "Holly," an area that was once the center of Denver's civil rights movement. Rubinstein, who grew up in Denver, began to report on the case and recognized that public reporting on what happened was not representative of what he was hearing in the neighborhood. Premieres Thursday 11/10/22 at 8PM.

What Exactly is a "Good Job"?

There's a widespread lack of awareness about what constitutes a quality job, with many narrowly focused on the role of compensation. And while wages are undoubtedly a critical component of job quality, other factors are just as important.
