The Colorado Channel Launches New Website

Open Media and the Colorado Channel have launched a new website. The site provides live streams and on demand recordings of the state legislative session. Over a decade of sessions from both chambers are available through the site.

The new site encourages constituents to get involved by contacting legislators, following bills and attending committee meetings.

GOVERNMENT

Georgetown, Colorado on Open.Media

Georgetown was originally a silver mining camp along Clear Creek in the Front Range of the Rocky Mountains. It was established in 1859 during the Pike's Peak Gold Rush. The town was a historic center of the mining industry in Colorado during the late 19th century, earning the nickname the "Silver Queen of Colorado". It has evolved into a lively historical summer tourist center today.

The town population was 1,118 at the 2020 United States Census
