A Faster, More Accessible, More Reliable Gov.Open.Media

We have exciting news! We recently launched a new version of Gov.Open.Media (OMPNetwork), our platform for streaming, recording and sharing public meetings. Our team worked hard building and testing it, and it has three big upgrades. The first is a faster search with new filters. Residents can narrow the results and go straight to the meeting, topic or agenda item they care about, without scrolling through hours of video. The second is accessibility: the platform now meets WCAG 2.1 standards, so people of all abilities can follow along with local decisions. The third is stability. We rebuilt Gov.Open.Media on a modern tech stack, which makes it faster and more reliable, and it gives us the base to add advanced features in the future.

All of this comes without disruption for current users. The interface is almost identical to the previous version, so no new training is needed. Current users can log in at open.open.media and start using the new features right away.

If you aren't using Gov.Open.Media yet, it's a great time to see how easy it can be for your community to find, watch and take part in local government. Our team is ready to help at support@open.media.

Exclusive FREE AI Workshop for Colorado Nonprofit EDs (Valued at $400)

Stop Wasting Time: How to Prompt AI to Do What You Actually Want the 1st Time
Thursday, October 22 | 2:00 to 4:00 PM | Open Media Foundation, 700 Kalamath St, Denver

Ever asked AI for help, then spent 30 extra minutes fixing what it gave you? It's one of the most common frustrations nonprofit leaders like you share, and it's fixable.

Open Media Foundation is hosting a free, hands-on AI workshop exclusively for Colorado nonprofit Executive Directors and leaders carrying equivalent responsibilities. It will be led by Regis Arzu of ETS AI Consulting, Colorado's #1 voice on AI for nonprofits, who has trained nonprofit teams across Colorado, including right here at Open Media. He'll share the same prompting approach he teaches in his paid client trainings: a simple three-part prompt structure, a way to get AI to sharpen its own work before you see it, and one question that gets AI asking you what it needs.

Bring a laptop and something real from your desk, like a grant paragraph, a board update, or a donor thank-you. You'll spend time working on it alongside other EDs just like you, with help in the room, and you'll leave with at least one prompt you'll use again the next morning. No AI experience required. Snacks and beverages provided.

Parking is available at the building, with more across the street.

Colorado Gives Day Coming Soon

Colorado Gives Day is coming up on Tuesday, December 8, and you don't have to wait to take part. Early giving opens November 1. Colorado Gives Day is the largest 24-hour giving event in Colorado and one of the most successful giving days in the country. Colorado Gives Foundation and presenting sponsor PNC started it in 2010 to grow charitable giving to Colorado nonprofits, and it has raised more than half a billion dollars since then. In 2025 alone, Coloradans gave more than $56.6 million to the nonprofits that serve their communities.

This year, please consider including Open Media Foundation in your giving. Your gift helps us serve other nonprofits and helps keep local government open, accessible and easy for everyone to follow. Schedule your donation any time after November 1, or give on December 8, and help make this year's Colorado Gives Day the biggest one yet.

Denver Film Festival Oct 22 - Nov 1

Since 1978, Denver Film has promoted film both as an art form and as a civic forum, a place where communities come together to watch, discuss and connect. The 501(c)(3) cultural arts organization works to build a lifelong relationship with film among its members and the wider public. Its year-round home is the Sie FilmCenter. Each fall it presents the award-winning Denver Film Festival, and it runs a series of spotlight festivals throughout the year. In the summer it produces the popular Film on the Rocks series, where moviegoers watch films under the stars at Red Rocks Amphitheatre. Whether you're a dedicated cinephile or just looking for a great night out, Denver Film invites you to come see the transformative power of film for yourself.
